

This end-user license agreement (referred to as EULA) is a legal contract between you (referred to as end-user) and Bomba, Zürich. By downloading, installing and/or using the font software you confirm that you have read and accepted this EULA.

1 License Grants and Models

Bomba hereby grants you a limited and non-exclusive license to use the font software specified on your invoice. The specific rights granted to you depend entirely on the license model(s) purchased, as defined below. You may only use the font software within the scope of your purchased tier(s):

(A) Print License

The Print License allows for the local installation of the font on your computers to create static print materials and digital documents (such as flyers, posters, presentations, and read-only PDFs). This license explicitly excludes the use of the font for social media posts, branding, or logotypes.

(B) Web License

The Web License permits the use of the font on a single website domain. The font files must be self-hosted on your own server. This license is strictly for web display and does not cover desktop installation for print, use in social media content, or logo creation.

(C) Social Media License

The Social Media License grants you the right to use the font to create visual content and advertisements specifically for social media platforms (e.g., Instagram, TikTok, LinkedIn, YouTube). It covers digital content creation for these platforms but does not include general print usage, web hosting, or brand marks.

(D) Logotype License

The Logotype License allows you to incorporate the typeface into a unique brand mark, wordmark, or primary logo design. Please note that this license strictly excludes the use of the font on mass-produced merchandise intended for retail sale.

(E) Identity License

The Identity License is a comprehensive package designed for full brand cohesion. It combines the permissions of the Print, Social Media, and Logotype licenses, allowing you to use the font seamlessly across your physical printed materials, social media platforms, and core brand identity.

Other Use (Custom Inquiry)

The Custom License covers any use of the font that falls outside the standard Print, Web, Social Media, Logotype, or Identity licenses. It is required for use cases such as app embedding, mass-produced merchandise, broadcast/streaming, or enterprise-level usage. This license is granted only upon request and is subject to a custom quote.

General Installation & Formatting Terms

Where your license allows local installation (e.g., Print or Identity License), you may install and use the font software on a specified number of workstations which belong to the company purchasing the license. The number of workstations covered must be specified in the invoice. You may install the font software on a protected server only; it may NOT be installed or used on a server that can be accessed via the Internet or another external network system. The end-user is allowed to create one (1) copy for back-up use only. The end-user undertakes not to change any trademark or trade name of the licensed font software. You are allowed to send a copy of the font software to a printer or service company for final output. The printer or service company must destroy any copy upon completion of the work, and you agree to inform them about the content of this EULA. Fonts purchased for local installation are delivered in OpenType format and optimized for professional graphic design applications like the Adobe Creative Suite. We do not guarantee support for Office Applications like Microsoft Word. Fonts purchased under a Web License are provided in web-specific formats (e.g., WOFF/WOFF2).

2 Intellectual Property Rights

This font software is licensed to the end-user, not sold. This means that Bomba retains title and copyrights to the font software and accompanying documentation. The font software is the intellectual property of Bomba containing proprietary information and valuable trade secrets, and as such they are protected by the copyright laws of many nations, and by international treaties. The end-user hereby undertakes not to copy, rename, resell, redistribute, transfer by any technical means to third parties or to modify in any way the font software or its design.

3 Embedding

Unless you have specifically purchased a Web License, embedding of the font software into your electronic documents is only allowed for viewing and printing, NOT for editing. This EULA does under no circumstances entitle the end-user to broadcast digital documents with embedded licensed fonts over computer networks, including but not limited to publicly accessible Internet pages (CSS @font-face rules) or any other public media, Flash documents, DVDs, game playing devices, electronic books, mp3 players, mobile phones, or mobile devices. Embedding the font software in these ways requires the purchase of a Custom License (or a Web License specifically for CSS @font-face rules).

4 Warranty and Liability

Bomba warrants that the font software will perform in accordance with the installation information provided on its Website. The font software may be returned or exchanged only if defective and will be replaced only when accompanied by a valid sales receipt within thirty (30) days of purchase.

Bomba shall under no circumstances be liable to the end-user for any consequential, incidental or special damages, including any lost business profits or for any claim by any third party. Bomba does not warrant you the results you may obtain by using the font software.

5 Termination

This Agreement will terminate automatically if you fail to comply within its terms. In this case, you must stop using the font software, destroy all copies of the font software, and certify that no copies remain in your possession or control. This Agreement is valid in all territories and has no expiration date. Any dispute regarding the validity, performance, or interpretation of this agreement shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of Zurich, Switzerland.
